

Become part of the 2019 Your Money, Your Goals Cohort!

Gain cutting-edge financial education materials and trainings for clients with disabilities through the BCFP.

The Bureau of Consumer Financial Protection is offering train-the-trainer opportunities with its cutting-edge Your Money, Your Goals toolkits. These trainings are available to a cohort of up to 40 organizations that are committed to educating and empowering the communities they serve. Cohort members will gain strong financial skills for teaching clients how to set goals, choose financial products, and manage money, credit and debt.

The Bureau also offers Focus on People with Disabilities, a companion guide to Your Money, Your Goals, directed at empowering the disability community. FPWD features valuable guidance and resources around working, saving, and managing money when living with a disability. The guide even features screen-reader accessible PDFs! If you serve clients with disabilities, please mention wanting to learn about Focus on People with Disabilities in your Cohort application.
